DWIGHT ASSET MANAGEMENT COMPANY located in downtown Burlington, Vermont is an investment company that focuses exclusively on fixed income investment management services for institutional clients. With the fast-paced environment of trading and investing, Dwight's furniture requirements were technology based, while still allowing them to achieve their goal of an open environment, permitting the free exchange of ideas without compromising a beautiful aesthetic.

After reviewing several options of furniture, Dwight Asset Management Company decided on a Knoll Currents® Spine with Reff® Panels between the workstations. Currents® is designed to support technology while allowing the ability to make changes with very little interruption. Currents® also has the ability to work seamlessly with all of Knoll furniture systems. The appearance of the Currents® Spine is very high-tech, so Reff® veneer panels and work surfaces were chosen to create a more sophisticated atmosphere. Knoll was also chosen for its commitment to environmentally responsible manufacturing practices beginning in the 1970s, a big concern for the client.

Over the past several years Dwight Asset Management has continued to grow and require change in their furniture configurations. Knoll Currents® and Reff® have continued to serve the clients needs as well as adapt to these changes. This has proven to be a wise "investment over time" as the products ability to adapt has proven itself again and again.
